HOWDY, Y'ALL!

About Dr. Judith Ann Benner

Judith Ann Benner is a descendant of early Texas settlers. She has a master's degree from Trinity University and a Doctor of Philosophy degree from Texas Christian University and has spent her career teaching, editing, writing and speaking on various topics. She is the author of five published books, all of them Texas or Confederate in subject.

Dr. Benner became interested in Sul Ross in the mid-1960's while working on her Master's degree. She has produced two juvenile novels about his life and has won several awards for her work on Sul Ross.

Dr. Benner, now retired, resides in a Medina County ghost town on the old stage road from San Antonio to El Paso. So far she has not seen any ghosts.
