About the Speaker:

Amy Bacon '91 is the author of Building Leaders, Living Traditions: The Memorial Student Center at Texas A&M University, published by Texas A&M University Press in 2009. She tells the MSC story in the words of students and staff members whose lives were changed by their experiences there. To that she adds her own experiences having served as vice president of development for the MSC as a student at Texas A&M. The book is filled with images and photographs illustrating how the MSC has changed and grown throughout its history.

Amy holds a Master's degree in public history from the University of Houston and a Bachelor's degree in history at Texas A&M University. Her forthcoming book presently titled WITH THESE HANDS: The Story of Lawrence Ludtke, Sculptor, Artist, Gentleman, is scheduled for Spring 2013 publication by Texas A&M University Press.
